*As the mighty sea excels the brooklet of the mead,
As the famous warrior all his soldiery doth lead:
So may we excel our peers, if this we only heed,
"Light Descends from Above"*

Motto of Alexander Campbell

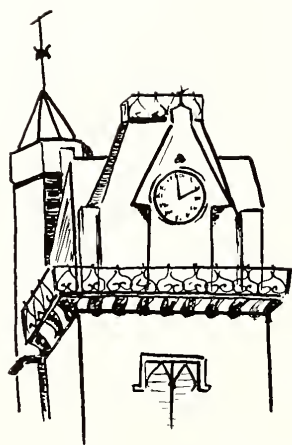

Dedication

It is with great respect and pleasure that this book is dedicated to the Reverend James Blair Miller who, during six years of service to the college, the students and the community, has shown himself to be a true Christian, a conscientious administrator and a sincere friend.

BOOK ONE

Spotlights

Old Bethany

*There is a spot where autumn leaves,
In myriad tints bedeck the trees,
And golden vines sway in the breeze
'Tis Bethany Old Bethany*

*There is a spot where winter screens
The rolling hills and gurgling streams,
With airy, fairy, feathery sheens;
'Tis Bethany Old Bethany*

*There is a spot where spring delays
To take her course to other ways,
And tree and shrub responde her praise;
'Tis Bethany Old Bethany*

*Where star lit skies with crystal gleam
And moon and earth with transport seem,
To hail the glory of one supreme;
'Tis Bethany Old Bethany*

In Memoriam

William Saylor Wilkin

1891 - 1951

Honorable, courageous and kind, "Bill" Wilkin's character has been, through more than half a century, deeply woven into the life of the Panhandle of West Virginia, his native community.

His entire life was devoted whole heartedly to the complicated task of performing his duty well and bettering conditions in his world. But the greatest service of his useful life was that rendered to Bethany College as a member of the Board of Trustees and as Chairman of the Board during one of the most difficult periods in the history of Bethany College. His exceptional talents and skill were untiringly employed, over a long period of years, to the many fold problems that arise in helping formulate the policy of the college. Living in the neighborhood, he was always on call for counsel, and to his very last day, his advice was eagerly sought and graciously given before important decisions were arrived at.

From the time "Bill" Wilkin registered at Bethany College, in September, 1908, to the day of his death, April 19, 1951, he was proud to be a Bethanian.

Truly Bethany has lost a great son and a true friend.

"Zeta, Zeta, you're the one"—a new song and a new year—Homecoming and our theme of "Let's Smoke 'Em Out" that ended up as "We're Rained Out" or "Mother Nature Bans Butts"—overnight us pickaninnies and "Mammy" Mary Belle built a shack and took in washing for Halloween and then ate apples, and more apples—dropping our "black-face" we donned the "beret" and became "art-ee-estic" for any evening in Behany's Greenwich Village—winter announced itself with the big snow—frozen fingers and our patroness serene—ade which was followed by Open House and then Christmas . . . "education week" and our pledge spaghetti dinner left us little time to fit in final exams—again we socialized at Stardust which almost succeeded in breaking us financially—our newly decorated chapter room inspired us to a field day to clean up the house—as the final blow we exercised our lungs at the Greek Sing and Swing and entertained for Mother's Day—And so another year rolled by and the Green River flowed.

Whoopie! September '30 started with a bang, or rather a splash, as the KD's, clutching paint buckets, spread a variety of colors over the walls (and floors) of numerous rooms throughout Shady Lawn in preparation for Open House. It's been a big old year, and it all began with that Doggy Roast when the cooling cokes floated into the middle of the Buffalo . . . and then there was the Homecoming Banquet when Alice arrived at the wrong place for her roast turkey . . . lots of engagements too—Bernie Harris and "Train Whistle" Don Hogan, Jane Rudin and Bob Leiser, and Alice Crook and George Massay . . . pinnings were in order too with Les Kimball and Glenn White, and Ann Nagle and Pete Bragg . . . things will never be the same after the lost alarm clocks and toothbrushes, and resounding firecrackers from our "dear pledges" . . . the Formal was a Melody Manor night to remember as well as that white lattice and the pink roses we never seemed to have enough of . . . wedding of the year was Marylou Myers to Donn Ramsdell . . . even Comprehensive came and passed and as seniors we felt a few pangs because we'd never see the removal of those infamous Bethany tunnels . . . but still we managed a few notes of "Phi Mu our Band, our hearts we pledge to thee . . ." and so last and finally it was Graduation Day and the longest processional we'd ever, ever seen . . .

cleaning up, and crystal ball gazing. And in a small town settled back in the hills of West By God there stands a large, white house in which this scene was being repeated in miniature.

CRISIS: The house was plunged into cold, clammy, darkness, as the pledges stole the fuse box for four days. "Mother" McGall persisted in jeopardizing the fraternity point average by sleeping through his nine o'clock—despite the fact that he was gotten up every morning.

CONFUSION: The social committee was in a constant quandry trying to figure out the school social calendar.

INTERNAL CLEANING UP: The house was painted by Sir Donovan; the Chapter Room had its face lifted, and Orlovski, our "Man of the Shower," washed down the second floor hall almost every day.

CRYSTAL BALL GAZING: We can see "So Proudly We Hail" Bennett leading the marines to glory, Barnett the pride of the infantry, Steinbrunn, a Captain of Industry, Patterson, Grove and Weeks leading a great revival of religion (?), and Hutchette competing with Symphony Sid as the nation's top disc-jockey.

The academic year 1950-51 has left Kappa Alpha with many changes . . . Three of our original twelve pledges have left our ranks to line up with the Confederate Army fighting the Koreans . . . North Koreans that is . . . The mansion has undergone changes, through hammer, nail, and paint brush, until it has become the epitome of southern style and comfort . . . It has been majestically transformed into a thing of beauty and utility . . . A startling new effect was achieved by ripping out the kitchen ceiling. A thorough cleaning of the attic unearthed treasures . . . One old Woody Herman record and '52 cracked dinner plates . . . While cleaning out some of the rubbish from the cellar, we unearthed an alumni who had been sleeping one off . . . Ah, yes, Southern Comfort, uh . . . hospitality, that is . . . The Obituaries for the year . . . Bob Culp married to Delores Gump . . . Robert, Lee, is . . . Bob Schoof engaged to Barbara Kendall . . . In the interest of better interfraternity relations we have generously donated all of our doorknobs to the Phi Mu house . . . Barring total mobilization we at the K. A. House hope to see as many Bethanians as we can next year.

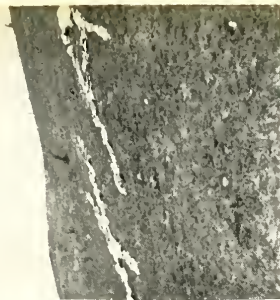

Hey Russ, you can get it annulled if he hasn't got a license for the gun.

Nice turn Jack. Now get up and try again.

But Russ, you don't study for comps until next year.

Epsilon's chapter house was renovated, new plaster and paint downstairs, when the boys returned last semester. In November came the annual, raucous "Bowery Brawl," one of Social Chairman Wes Eame's big hits. Brothers Campbell and Chownehill jointly conceived the "Mass Exodus to Steubenville's Greener Pastures" Halloween parade theme which netted the Chapter a bushel of apples.

At the annual Christmas party, Brother Bill Perry, who had spent the past year in Austria, supposedly conducting a Kinsey Investigation, delighted all as clownish Santa with a potpourri European accent. In Feb, Brother Bill Buchanan won the Horace Heidt show in Wheeling and a large following of Wheeling curies to boot. After eight years of coming close, an Epsilon's basketball team led by Coach Tom Miller and Bill Roth, Bernie Oakes, Keith Weikle, "Ham" Hamilton, and Frank Massiata won the I. F. Championship.

Finally toppled from three year football dynasty and held as an excuse the failure to subsidize athletes. Similar situation in basketball. Garnered prize pledge class through a "concentrated" rushing program. Thank you Webb Huginbotham and Bob Switzer. Put another mortgage on the house and held a gigantic Christmas dance through the effort of Hammer and Saw Nicholas. Chapter finally made their two point and was awarded the Kirkpatrick Living Cup for achievement above and beyond the call of duty. The Political Machine put Ralph Deflin into the senior class presidency and Dick Williams into Grand Potentate of Phi Chapter. The power behind the throne is yet to be announced. McConn and Friedman slept beside the telephone waiting for a call, but she never made it. Thomas ran true to form and topped his previous record by breaking four female hearts. Visited by secretary from national headquarters . . . he resigned his office due to ulcers and a complete nervous breakdown.

Responsibility

Personal ambition provides the spark that makes America tick. The right "to have and to hold" all honestly acquired gains has made us a great nation.

Every American, worthy of the name, living and profiting under such a system, should be alert to protect and perpetuate it by word and deed.

Every American citizen should assume responsibilities comparable to the hard-won liberties bequeathed to him by earlier generations.

We trust that Bethany's Graduates will not be found lacking in accepting their responsibilities.
